

Please read me first!

Hi everyone. Welcome to S3 Chemistry. Our first unit of work is to do with Chemical Reactions. This week we will look at the indicators of chemical reactions.

Each week I will set a task. You can complete this on a tablet or computer if you have access and email me the document when you have finished. (Please put your name on your work.) You could also complete the task on paper and email me a picture of it, if this is easier.

If you are ready now start by opening “tasks week 1”

I can be contacted at the address below if you have any questions.
