Using De

In English when we want to indicate that something belongs to someone we add an apostrophe and an "s" to their name. For example:

Susanna's book

Neil's bicycle

Sarah and David's dogs

We cannot do the same in Spanish. There is no apostrophe in Spanish and adding an "s" just makes things look plural. Instead we need to use the following formula including the word de (meaning "of"):

the + noun + de + name

Like this:

el libro de Susanna

la bicicleta de Neil

los perros de Sarah y David

Literally translated, these mean "the book of Susannah", "the bicycle of Neil", "the dogs of Sarah and David" but in English we would change that to say "Susanna's book", "Neil's bike" and "Sarah and David's dogs".

Look at task 3 below and put the above formula into practice. Number 1 is done for you as an example

Nationality in Spanish:

Nationalities in Spanish are often talked about using nationality adjectives, which are adjectives (words) that describe the country a person or thing is from.

Most nationality adjectives in Spanish have four forms: masculine singular, feminine singular, masculine plural, and feminine plural, though some just have two forms (singular and plural). For our purposes we are just going to focus on the masculine singular and feminine singular forms.

Take a look at the masculine and feminine forms the adjective francés (French) can take.

Juan es un chico francés = John is a French boy

Anita es una chica francesa = Anita is a French girl

While the endings may look a bit confusing at first, the rules for forming nationality adjectives are actually pretty straightforward.

Nationalities that end in an “-o”

Nationalities that end in an o have four forms: masculine singular, feminine singular, masculine plural, and feminine plural. As stated above, we are only looking at the masculine singular and feminine singular forms today.

Here is a quick rule for the change you'll need to make to the masculine singular form in order to make the feminine singular form.

To make the singular feminine form: change the o in the masculine singular form to an a e.g.

Mi abuelo es mexicano = my grandfather is Mexican

Mi abuela es mexicana. = my grandmother is Mexican

TASK 3: Circle the correct option for each sentence.

1. A man from Spain is called español/española.
2. A woman from France is called frances/francesa.
3. A man from Germany is called aleman/alemana.
4. A man from England is called ingles/inglesa.

TIP: "Habla = "he/she speaks"
"Hablan = "they speak"
"Se habla" = "they speak"

5. En Alemania se habla aleman/alemana.
6. En España se habla ingles/espanol.
7. En Irlanda se habla ingles/escoces.

8. En Estados Unidos se habla ingles y japones/español.
9. En China se habla japones/chino.
10. En Italia se habla italiana/italiano.
11. En Francia se habla frances/franceso.
12. En Portugal se habla español/portugues.

TASK 4: Create a touristic poster for one of the countries above mentioned. It must be 100% in Spanish. You have to use at least two of the following expressions:

- Visita _____ = Visit _____
- Hermosas ciudades = beautiful cities
- Monumentos historicos = Historical monuments
- Buen tiempo = Great weather
- Comida deliciosa = Delicious food
- Diversion = Fun

You can use an I-pad to research some of the classic views or monuments of the country of your choice. That way you may draw them. Remember to make it colorful and eye catching!
